SLOVAKIAN PLANES BOMB HUNGARIANS

BRATISLAVA, Slovakia, March 24 (AP)—The Slovak defense ministry today declared the Hungarian-held town of Sobrance had been bombed and one Hungarian plane brought down in fighting in Eastern Slovakia.

Sobrance is seven miles west of the Carpatho-Ukraine border from which Hungarian forces have penetrated Slovakia.

A defense ministry communiqué said the Hungarians were "slowly retreating under pressure from our air forces. Our fliers are very active and have had important successes. The Hungarians are putting up heavy resistance."

BOMB MOTOR UNIT

A second communiqué said: "Our fliers early today made observation flights over the region around Kosice, Michalovce and Trebisov."

(This was the first indication Hungarian forces were operating in that region, about 30 miles west of Carpatho-Ukraine. Kosice and Trebisov both lie close to the Slovak-Hungarian frontier.)

"At 7:55 a. m. (1:55 a. m. EST) three planes bombed Sobrance, where a motorized column of 25 units was hit. On the outskirts of Sobrance tanks and another motorized column were bombed," said the communiqué.

"Two of our planes were forced into emergency landings, one at Humenne and the other at Jovsa, north of Sobrance."

CLAIM MANY CASUALTIES

"Near Lucky, four miles west of Sobrance, a Magyar (Hungarian) plane was shot down. Its pilot bailed out and was taken prisoner."

Numerous casualties in the fighting yesterday and today were reported by the official Slovak press bureau.

In Budapest, however, authorities reported quiet prevailed today along the greater part of the border.

The official account here said Slovak troops engaged the Hungarians around Sobrance and Michalovce and Hungarian units withdrew five miles, beginning at 3:30 a. m. (9:30 p. m. Thursday, E.S.T.).

Marshal Murphy, Chief Deputy Quit After U. S. Inquiry

United States Marshal John J. Murphy and his chief deputy, John H. Burke, former mayor of Medford, resigned those offices today, it was announced by the Department of Justice.

At the same time, the Department of Justice confirmed reports that agents have been investigating "allegations of certain irregularities in the office of the United States marshal in Boston."

Murphy's resignation will be effective, according to the word from Washington, on the nomination and confirmation of his successor.

NAME ACTING MARSHAL

He gave as his reason for resigning the post his "desire to become a candidate for public office."

Deputy Burke's resignation apparently is effective immediately, the Department of Justice stating that Deputy Ralph Gray, who has held office for 15 years, had been named Burke's successor and made acting marshal.

Burke said he resigned to seek appointment as city clerk in Medford.

Murphy, former mayor of Somerville, was appointed to the marshal's post on January 26, 1934. He was one of the earliest Roosevelt supporters.

Last June, however, reports began to circulate that Murphy would not be reappointed, because of complaints against his office being carried to the White House.

IRREGULARITIES REPORTED

Several resignations took place in the marshal's office after department of justice agents, in a survey of records of the office about a year ago, reported they had found irregularities in the matter of personal vouchers in connection with the transportation of prisoners.

They also reported finding irregularities in the handling of condemnation proceedings.

It is understood they discovered that food products, condemned by the United States Public Health Service and supposedly destroyed by the marshal's office, had been resold in this area.

POLES DOOM 'STOP-HITLER' PLAN, SPURN POWER BLOC

WARSAW, March 24 (AP)—The Warsaw Express Poranny, considered to be a mouthpiece of the foreign office, said today, Poland would not join any international bloc.

Political circles considered this tantamount to rejection of the British "Stop Hitler" plans.

Poland, the newspaper said, wondered whether the conception of international co-operation under Soviet Russian auspices was not based on an illusion.

(The Russian government had proposed a conference of interested powers to discuss common action in event of possible German aggression.)

(The British government in a counter-proposal suggested an anti-aggression declaration by Britain, France, Russia and Poland and any other nation willing to enter into the joint effort provoked by German absorption of Czechoslovakia. Russia accepted the British proposal.)

Express Poranny declared: "Poland does not expect anything from declarations and will not allow herself to be dragged into a bloc nor will she form any blocs herself."

"Poland will augment her strength by internal union and by increasing her armed forces to the limits."

"Poland has no territorial claims and does not want to submit other nations to her influence but she will permit none to touch her frontiers or her national honor."

Treasury O. K.'s Security Tax Cut

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau, speaking in behalf of "business recovery," proposed today to lift from "American productive enterprise" the burdens of tax increases in the old age insurance system.

At the present stage of business recovery, he told the House ways and means committee, it might be well to change the payroll tax schedule to keep the levies lower than had been scheduled for the next three years.

"In periods of incomplete business recovery like the present," he said in testimony giving Treasury approval to proposals advanced particularly by business men, "the contributory old age insurance system should be so financed as to have the least possible deterring effect on business."

Specifically, Morgenthau presented three alternative proposals to cut down the tax rate now planned for employers and employees alike in the near future.

At the White House, President Roosevelt backed up Morgenthau's suggestions and said the administration was working on a change in the social security reserve provision, with the view of restricting this fund to a protective amount sufficient only to take care of old age payments over a period of from three to five years.

He said the average thought on the question was that a reserve of between $2,500,000,000 and $3,000,000,000 would be adequate.

President Roosevelt told his press conference the existing reserve provision had been properly criticized because it involved the "possibility of an unlimited reserve. He added, however, that it was not true the government was going to build up a $40,000,000,000 reserve.

Morgenthau's alternative plans included:

FREE PATROLMAN, 2 CONSTABLES IN CONTEMPT CASE

Judge Louis S. Cox, in Supreme Court today, dismissed contempt of court charges against Patrolman Robert F. Warren of the traffic division and two Boston constables, Joseph Herman of Dorchester and William Tetter of Roxbury.

The three men had been jailed on March 13 on order of Probate Judge John V. Mahoney, who charged that they had lied in giving testimony in support of Warren's suit for divorce.

Counsel for the trio, John M. Boyle and Harold Aronofsky, filed a petition for a writ of error in Supreme Court, and on that petition Judge Cox, last Wednesday, freed the men on bail pending his final decision today.

DISMISSES CHARGES

The policeman and the constables were not in court when Judge Cox handed down his decision, in which he said:

"I think that I ought to order these petitioners discharged. I have examined some of the authorities. There are two rather interesting notes in the American Law Reports and the cases are rather decisive.

"So I think I must order their discharge." Patrolman Warren, however, still has to face a police trial board. After he was sentenced by Judge Mahoney to serve 30 days with the constables in Charles street jail, the policeman was notified that he had been suspended from duty.

The contempt sentence came after the constables had testified in corroboration of Warren's story that the latter's wife, Marie C. Warren, mother of his two children, had slapped his face and had struck him with a flatiron and a stove cover.

According to the constables, they witnessed these incidents, Judge Mahoney, suddenly halting the divorce hearing, said:

"I disbelieve your entire story and I am going to hold you all in contempt of court for perjury. 'This court will not permit the obtaining of divorces or decrees in other cases on fraudulent testimony, and it seems to me this is a pretty good time to enforce this mandate.'"

TOKYO, March 24 (AP)—A shell-shocked army officer killed one passenger and injured six others in an outburst on a Japanese express, the war office said today.

Mad Rancher Flees Trap Posse of Dead-Shots Hunts Tarzan Killer

CODY, Wyo., March 24 (INS)—With two bloodhounds leading the way, a posse of 25 riflemen today took up the trail of Earl Durand, 26-year-old raw meat eating sharpshooter and slayer of four law officers.

Durand eluded 100 heavily armed men and fled his mountain stronghold 40 miles north of here as preparations were being made to blast him out with howitzer and trench mortar fire.

The 25 picked possemen, under direction of Sheriff Frank Blackburn, left their camp at Owens ranch, four miles from the base of Bear Tooth mountain, early in the day. They carried food to last from three to five days.

Runners and signals will be used to communicate with the base camp as the posse trudges up the steep slopes of the mountain and over the snow-laden top of Saw Tooth peak.

HEADS FOR WILDERNESS

Sheriff Blackburn said he thought the killer was heading for the wooded fastness of the eastern section of Yellowstone National Park and that his route might take him into Montana.

For that reason, Gov. Roy Ayers ordered a detachment of National Guardsmen to join in the manhunt.

The guardsmen were equipped with a .37 millimeter howitzer with a range of 1600 yards and a three-inch trench mortar with a range of 800 yards.

Belief was expressed that Durand, despite his knowledge of the narrow canyons and deep caves, may encounter difficulty in crossing the deep snows at the mountain top.

The searchers were fearful, however, that the rubber-packed

MRS. DOROTHY FORSYTHE
Youth Who Shot Her Gets Four Years

VICTIM GRIEVES FOR SENTENCED YOUTH ADMIRER

LOWELL, March 24—Lying helpless in a bed at St. John's hospital here, her breast marred for life by a livid scar, Mrs. Dorothy Forsythe learned the fate today of the love-maddened youth who shot and nearly killed her.

She was told that Robert N. Challee, 20, of Baldwin street, Billerica, had been given four to five years in state prison by Judge Frank J.

Donahue in Middlesex Superior Court.

And to the lips of the pretty, 25-year-old Billerica housewife and mother of three children, came again the words of horrified incredulity which she has repeated incessantly since that tragic episode in her home last February 20:

"I can't believe it. I can't believe it's all happened. He was just a boy, only 20. How could he have gone stark, raving mad?"

Ever since that day, Mrs. Forsythe has been bed-ridden in the hospital. Yet her survival was termed a modern medical mystery.

And the tenacity of her grip on life saved young Challee's "nice boy" from possible death in the electric chair.

It was a strange version of the eternal triangle, according to J. Paul Keefe, the youth's attorney, in his defense plea before Judge Donahue.

It was the story of a "horrible situation," Keefe asserted, which was known to Mrs. Forsythe's husband, Lester, 28, of Lowell, Mass., at the time of the shooting.

6 Pay Murder Price In Mass Execution

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 24 (INS)—In one of the greatest mass executions in the history of the state, six men—all convicted of the same crime—went to death in the electric chair here today.

The men, convicted of killing Prison Guard Captain J. Olin Sanders during an attempted break December 12, 1937, were:

William H. Gentry, 23, leader of attempted break; George Wingard, 23, Lexington, S. C.; Herbert Moorhead, 42, Detroit; Clayton Crana, 50, Rochester, N. Y.; Roy Suttles, 29, Greenville, S. C.; and J. V. Blair, 28, Sumter, S. C.

The executions took only 48 minutes.

The grim march got under way at 6:30 a. m. E. S. and the executions proceeded rapidly and with clocklike precision.

The men went to the chair in the approximate order in which they had entered Captain Sanders' office the day they staged their futile break for freedom.

All six men died calmly. Only one, Gentry, who admitted on the stand he stabbed Captain Sanders, failed to make any profession of religious faith as he sat strapped in the chair.

Wingard, first to die, was smoking as he walked in with firm step. As he was being strapped in the chair, he said:

"I have no statement to make, only that I have made peace with God and am ready to go."

Gentry, who wanted to die, was the second to take his place in the chair. He was calm as he walked in unassisted. He was smoking a cigaret and, smiling at the guards, said:

"Well, so long."

ACCUSES PRISON HEAD

Asked by Col. J. G. Sullivan, who superintended the "strapping in," if he had a statement, he replied: "I can only say that five men in this room are receiving an injustice."

Then looking toward Sullivan, he added:

"You participated in it."

As the hood was being strapped over his head, he snapped:

"Don't choke me."

Suttles followed Gentry. He also was calm. Asked if he wished to make a statement, he said:

"I want people to know I have accepted Jesus as my God and I will go to His great kingdom."

Moorman seemed calm and was unassisted as he walked into the room. He said:

"I'd like to say there is no hate in my heart. I love everyone."

The other two then paid their penalty calmly.

Missing Wife Clue Reported

TULSA, March 24 (AP)—Police said today H. T. Post, Tulsa, had reported that a woman whose description approximated that of missing Mrs. Eudora Cunningham of Oklahoma City boarded a bus March 7 at McAlester, Okla., and rode to Beaumont, Texas.

Mrs. Cunningham disappeared in Oklahoma City on March 6.

Roger Cunningham, her 33-year-old husband, remained in detention at Oklahoma City, but officials said no effort to prevent his freedom would be made if no new developments occurred today.

IMPERIA, Italy, March 24 (AP)—The British steamer Burrington Combe with 93 Spanish refugees aboard arrived here yesterday after losing its way in the storm, enroute from Valencia to Seta, France.

The ship was leaking badly and food and water were running low when it reached port. Local authorities supplied food while British officials considered repatriation of the Spaniards.

The plan, suggested by Governor William H. Vanderbilt of Rhode Island, will be presented to the owners and drivers, the representatives said, in an effort to end the five-day strike in that state, Massachusetts and Connecticut.

Governor Vanderbilt, at the end of the 25-hour conference, said the strike will not be settled until the compromise plan has been accepted by both groups.

"We have every confidence that this action will be forthcoming," he added.

LABOR HEED PARLEY

According to the governor, heads of the state labor departments of the three affected states attended the long conference.

"We believe," said Vanderbilt, "that the plan we have suggested is fair and equitable to both sides and that its acceptance would be of real benefit to the trucking industry as a whole."

Meanwhile, at Worcester, 35 central Massachusetts truck operators, meeting at the Hotel Bancroft, agreed to close up until the strike is settled.

The closing down of these truck firms will affect about 400 workers who have not yet been called out.

Operators said, however, that they did not wish to be caught with goods on their hands that they would be unable to deliver.

DRIVERS CLASH

The first open disturbance of the strike came in Western avenue, Brighton, where police were rushed to halt a dispute between three drivers entering the city from Worcester.

Two large vans, police were told, were forcing from the highway a third truck, said to have passed through strike lines in Connecticut and central Massachusetts.

Timely arrival of police averted a possible accident or fight, and the trucks went on their way, police asserted.

Meanwhile, on the entire strike "front," from Tunton through Worcester and Springfield and major cities of Rhode Island and Connecticut, there was a minimum movement of trucks today because many transportation firms ordered their machines held in garages.

Partial settlement of the Ladies Garment Workers' strike was announced today . . . almost before the strike got under way.

The settlement, it was said, would be signed later in the day, at which time it will be made public.

Reduction of more than $5,000,000 in federal income tax collections in Massachusetts for the first 29 days of March compared with a year ago was reported today by Acting Collector of Internal Revenue Thomas B. The collector reported intake for that period this year was $15,814,856.42, compared with $21,147,911.53 a year ago.

Certain exemptions allowed under the new law, the collector said, also cut into the aggregate collected.

'Jail Baby' in Wealthy Home As N. H. Mother Ponders Fate

WOODSVILLE, N. H., March 24

—They broke it to her gently . . .
"We don't think you had better see your baby any more," they told her, "because the more you see of her the more you'll miss her . . . We've given her out for adoption, to one of the state's best families. She'll always have a good home."

And so the woman nodded slowly, shrugged, and turned away to gaze again out of the window, the window crossed with bars . . .

She is Mrs. Katherine D. Stevens, and she faces a charge of slaying her other baby, the one before Laura Mae, who was born a month ago after the mother had been arrested.

Fred I. Stevens, 57, her husband, is already serving a term of from 5 to 7 years for the part he allegedly played in the strangulation and secret burial of the baby, Jayne, who was 6-months-old when her parents decided they could no longer care for her.

And there are five others—
Elmira, 8; Helen, 6; Charles, 5, and twins, Annie Mae and Marie, 2
—none of whom she has seen since

MRS. KATHERINE STEVENS

her arrest six months ago. They are being cared for by the state.

In alleged confession she is alleged to have said "I was driven to it." Although indicted for murder, it was said today that she will not be prosecuted for so serious an offense. Her case is due for hearing in May.

The baby will be turned over to its new parents today.

'Outside' Hearing State Precedent

For the first time in Boston's history, a public hearing on legislative business will be held outside the State House on April 4.

The hearing will be on the state budget before the ways and means committee and the setting will be in Faneuil Hall, by arrangement of Speaker Christian A. Herter of the House.

FORTUNE PASSES N. E. IN SWEEPS

Fortune's golden smile passed up New England today in the 101st running of the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree, Eng.

Sir Alexander Maguire's Workman won the race over the ancient course of 1 miles, 856 yards, with MacMolrat second and Kilstar, the favorite, third.

No Irish Hospital Sweepstakes ticket-holder in New England had a stub on any of these first three horses, and thus lost out on the sweeps prizes: $150,000 for first; $75,000 for second, and $50,000 for third.

Ten Americans held sweepstakes tickets on Workman, bringing them an aggregate fortune of $1,500,000.

Nine Americans held tickets on Kilstar, in the show position, and to them comes a total of $450,000 in prize money.

The 10 New England tickets on starters but non-placers, together with tickets drawn here on non-starters, brought the New Englanders a total of $42,500, to be split among 33 persons who held them.

Mrs. Julia C. Byrnes of 772 Center street, Jamaica Plain, whose sweepstakes ticket drew Royal Mail, a favorite, listened to the radio report of the race at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Claire Gibbs, 34 Kingman road, Dorchester.

"I'm glad it's all over," said Mrs. Byrnes. "I've been a nervous wreck since I drew the horse."

She had been offered $4500 for her ticket. She refused the offer but collects $2650 anyway for drawing the horse.

"At least I had a few thrilling minutes when Royal Mail was in the lead and then up among the leaders," she said.

Mrs. Byrnes said that with her $2650 she will take a trip to Ireland and visit an aunt, Mrs. Mary Shea, in Kerry.

With high hopes and attentive ears glued closely to her loud speaker, Mrs. Julia C. Byrnes listens to Grand National Steeplechase in her Jamaica Plain home. She holds a ticket on Royal Mail . . . but when race ended, the mail had not been delivered. However, she collects $2650

All 10,000 In Town Win On Sweeps

AINTREE, Eng., March 24 (AP)—All of the inhabitants of the town of Navan, in County Meath, 10,000 of them, profited by Workman's victory in the Grand National today.

Sir Alexander Maguire, owner of the winner, disclosed after the race that he had placed a bet on behalf of the entire population. He declined to disclose the sum wagered.

DRIVERS, PICK COUGH MEDICINE WITH CARE!

Despite his acquittal of a drunken driving charge, John M. Hart, Worcester lawyer, was without an operator's license today.

Ignoring the attorney's explanation by Associate Judge John C. Mahoney, Registrar Frank A. Goodwin suspended Hart's license indefinitely. He refused to accept the lawyer's explanation that it was cough medicine and not liquor which mellowed his breath when he was arrested.

It was the second time in a week that the registrar took issue with a court decision. Last week he suspended the license of a Somerville man acquitted in East Cambridge court of a drunken driving charge.

FINE LYNN BOOKIE $350

After the court was informed that it was the defendant's third similar offense, Renaldo Chiavarelli, 29, was fined $350 on a charge of maintaining rooms where horse race bets were registered, by Judge Ralph Reeve, in Lynn district court.

Film Stars' Phantom Gem Burglar Caught

VENICE, Cal., March 24 (AP)—Detective Captain Harry Seager said today he believed the arrest in San Francisco of Walter Graham, 40, with $80,000 in gems ended a five-year search for the "phantom burglar of Bel-Air," whose particular prey had been the wealthy of the motion picture colony.

ANN DVORAK

Seager said officers also found jewels "worth at least $20,000, in a Venice residence, the address of which was supplied by San Francisco police after Graham's arrest, and that Mrs. Charlotte Graham, 39, his wife, had been apprehended as she attempted to flee by a window. She is being held for questioning.

Describing the house as "luxuriously furnished," Seager added that officers had located a cabin cruiser owned by Graham and were hunting for a speedboat in storage.

The "Phantom" in the past five years has escaped with gems, furs, silverware, clothing and other articles valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars from homes in Bel-Air and nearby fashionable districts. Always he eluded capture, often narrowly.

His latest victim was Ann Dvorak, actress, who lost jewels valued at $6000 a week ago.

Among the others, with their estimates of losses, were:

Producer Sol Wurtzel, $100,000 ($50,000 each on two occasions); Actress Miriam Hopkins, $15,000; Producer Louis D. Leighton, $25,000; Actor Gary Cooper, $25,000; Actress Lili Damita, $1200; Director Jack Conway, $30,000; Actress Doris Kenyon, $6000; Mrs. William R. Wilkerson, wife of a restaurant owner and film magazine publisher, $24,500; Actress Lila Lee, $12,000.

AFL-CIO Heads Resume Parley

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—The AFL and CIO renewed peace conferences today with no outward sign that chances for an end to labor's civil war had been strengthened by an exchange of strongly worded views.

In its first formal statement on the peace parleys the AFL executive council said last night it would go to any "reasonable" extent to reach a settlement, but it added:

"At the same time it is clear the executive council cannot go beyond the powers and authorities delegated to it or disregard or trespass upon the rights, privileges and prerogatives of affiliated national and international unions."

Engineer Taylor, 65, Dies in Natick

Walter A. Taylor, 65, for 38 years an engineer for the Boston and Albany railroad and 11 years prior to that a fireman, died today at Natick hospital following a long illness.

He had been engineer of the 20th Century Limited and Boston-New York express.

He was a native of Dorchester, N. B. He is survived by his widow, a daughter and six sons. One of the latter, Leonard, is star end for St. Anselm's College football eleven.

It Couldn't Have Been Ferdinand

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 24 (AP)—The next time anyone of a certain quartet of Charlotte policemen hears the Toreador Song—if he ever does—it will really bring back memories, but not of love. Without the trappings of the trade, the four pood their persistence and a rope to capture a rampunctious bull that had escaped en route to the abattoir.

VICTIMS—Arrest of phantom burglar, whom police believe responsible for series of Bel-Air, Cal., crimes, with $88,600 in gems, gave hopes for return of $6000 in jewels to Film Star Ann Dvorak and $15,000 in loot to Miriam Hopkins.

 In his address here the president said:

We get the last end of the sticker from our allies in the last World War. We have enough to do now to take care of our own business at home instead of getting mixed up in another Japanese fight.

I am not in favor of what they are doing over there in Europe, but I am not so strongly against it that I'll send my sons over there to stop it.

For allies of the last war owe twenty-six billion dollars in public and private debts, which they refuse to pay. Now if they want help, let them start paying these debts.

"Right now we are faced with broken down business in the United States. We have plenty to do to take care of our own troubles without crossing the ocean."

A Quincy father and mother and their two babies were overcome by gas in their home on Sea street, Houghs Neck, today, and their lives were saved only because the father happened to awaken with a "splitting headache."

Paul Vickers, 35, told police he awoke with a splitting headache. He knew was sleeping in a room with a gas stove and a window.

He found the room was filled with gas. He went to a window, unlocked the gas, then awakened his wife Ann, 30, and their two children, Roberta, 2½, and John, 1, outside. Neighbors called the gas company and the four were removed to a safe place.

A police officer said the gas escaped into the home when a pipe snapped off where it entered the kitchen.

Nazis Given Products of All Joint Firms in Rumanian Pact

BUCHAREST, March 24 (AP)—Germany has won the right to all products of German-Rumanian companies to be established in Rumania to exploit new oilfields and other industries. This is the nearest approach to monopolistic concessions given Germany in the five-year trade agreement, reached Wednesday. The agreement in effect extends German commercial enterprise to the Black Sea by giving the Nazis free ports on the Danube and the Black Sea. Rumania meanwhile continued defense precautions today and reservists proceeded to concentration points under the movement ordered Monday.

FEAR NAZI PROPAGANDA

It appeared the functioning of the German Rumanian companies would be more or less out of Rumanian control, but Bucharest authorities said Rumanian common sense would be in a position to put the brakes on the operation of other features of the plan should German influence become too great.

Some Rumanians were concerned by the prospects of an influx of German technical experts and workers, fearing they might become propagandists for political co-operation with Germany. No political conditions were mentioned in the synopsis of the agreement.

The trade treaty was regarded by many as the framework of an economic plan capable of filling many of Germany's needs for raw materials.

Wheat, petroleum, stone and many other materials became available to Germany.

CRISIS ON GERMANY

But economists who were studying the ramifications of the trade pact cautioned that predictions that Germany would absorb all a large percentage of Rumanian agricultural production were exaggerated.

The pact was interpreted as an indication of a definite economic dependence of Rumania on the Nazis.

Germany did not bind herself to deal exclusively with Rumania or even to export definite percentages of her products to Germany. She remains free to sell any quantities of products to other nations.

Government commissions will be created to pass upon individual trade and development projects undertaken jointly by the two countries. A Rumanian commission may disapprove of any undertaking which it fears might give Germany too great a claim for Rumanian products.

There is a clause in exchange of goods controlled for each country between the two countries which may be changed.

Poland Summons More Reservists

WARSAW, March 24 (AP)—The Polish government today summoned 10,000 more reservists to the army. The government said it was necessary to do so because of the Rumanian pact.

PARIS-ROME PACT NEAR

PARIS, March 24 (AP)—President Albert Lebrun was greeted enthusiastically today on his return from a three-day state visit to London which was hailed as having strengthened the Anglo-French understanding.

He was accompanied by Georges Bonnet, French foreign minister, who had face-to-face consultation with British officials on an "anti-aggression" security pact.

Feasibility of negotiations to settle differences between Italy and France apparently hangs on the delicate question of whether to make the first move.

French sources said that since Italy had denounced the 1935 colonial treaty it was up to the Fascists to say what they wanted. Then France might talk.

Diplomats however anticipated the address by King Vittorio Emanuele as meaning Italians considered they had opened the way for negotiations in a December 17 note denouncing the 1935 accord.

Japs Capture Town In Nanchang Drive

SHANGHAI, March 24 (AP)—Japanese land and naval forces clearing out flank resistance to their offensive toward Nanchang, reported today they had captured Wurheng, 35 miles north of Nanchang lake.

Five fresh Chinese divisions were rushed into the Chienan river front in an attempt to block a Japanese drive toward that area. Japanese have also reported their long stalled drive through northern Honan Province.

Murphy said a counter espionage committee formed several months ago at the instigation of President Roosevelt had evidence, but he declined to tell reporters what agencies had been uncovered.

The committee is composed of secret service agents, G-men, police inspectors, immigration and passport officials.

Murphy said he would be glad to make public the results of a counter espionage investigation of New activities here. The department was asked to send the report to Congress in a report scheduled to be filed yesterday by Chairman Dies (D) of Texas of the committee on American activities.

A department had backed by the committee was passed over to the House yesterday. The committee is now advocating change in the American foreign policy.

Howland Pleads Girl Share Death Charge

CHICAGO, March 24.—The Chicago Tribune today charged that Howard Howland, 27, of Chicago, was the man who shot and killed Miss Maude Horne of Milwaukee, 21, of Chicago, on March 19.

She was battered to death for $25 which financed Howland's expensive trip to Europe and Asia. The Tribune said the man was a known racketeer and a close associate of the New York gangster, Alvin Karpis.

Howland was charged with the murder of Miss Horne, who was shot in the back of the head while she was in a car with Howland and another man, who was charged with the murder of Miss Horne.

"I can beat the rap if you do," the note stated in apparent disregard for the girl's welfare, and in an obvious effort to shield himself with whatever sympathy her youth and prettiness might arouse in a jury.

The note was written on a piece of paper which was found in the car with Howland. It was addressed to Miss Horne and was signed "Howard."

BRILLIANT COSTUMES.

Breakfast tables, three this year, Vincent Club, which had its partners in last year's show last evening, the first of the season of Vincent.

ANNE BLAKE JANE DONALD JESSE P. COOLIDGE.
IT TOOK TWO Vincent Clubs to sell a program to Usher P. Coolidge, Harvardian, at the opening of the Vincent show last evening, and the photographer happened along just as they were figuring out the change. Anne Blake is the daughter of the William O. Blake, Jane Donald's home is in Milton, and Mr. Coolidge's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Templeman Coolidge of Beacon street.

Premiere Draws Fashionables

Friend makes paper sister, friends and admirers were warm and enthusiastic in their applause at the opening of the Vincent Club show at the Regency last evening, and proved that Hancock Hall is most comfortable.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sumner, Jr., whose daughter, Laura, has a prominent part in the show, sat beside with a party of friends. Mrs. John S. Lawrence, sister of Mrs. James I. Lawrence, Vincent Club's chairman, sat next to the Richard P. Lawrence, Jr., of Boston, and Mrs. William S. Lawrence of Milton shared a table with George, Verle Meyer and his son, Charles.

Mrs. John Saltonstall wore a fine skirted gown of black taffeta, with a flowered lace bolero, and Mrs. George Saltonstall, West, whose daughter, Mary, is a prominent debutante this season, wore a slim black lace dress, and her hair in a becoming upswipe coiffure. Mrs. Philip Stockton was accompanied by her son, Charles, and his fiancée, Betty Lantry, of Needham. The latter wore a short, most gray dress and silver fox cape.

Carrying a green chiffon handkerchief and a bouquet of violets, with her gown of amber chiffon, Mrs. Francis P. Sears chaperoned her sub-deb daughters, who are home from boarding school for the spring holidays. "Sister" Sears wore a lovely dress of black net with bands of Alice blue velvet ribbon encircling the skirt and a cluster of matching blue bows in her hair.

DIRECTS TABLE AT BLIND BENEFIT

Miss Mary E. Ramsdell is chairman of a group of Women's Republican Club members who will be in charge of a table on Monday at the "Help the Blind" sale, which is currently taking place at the Blind Handicraft Shop.

Assisting Miss Ramsdell are Miss Alice Thorpe, Mrs. Ralph W. Gray, Mrs. Wilbur S. Grant and Mrs. Wesley Burford.

who has conducted the music for five Vincent shows, played the medal which was given to him for his part in conducting last year's drill.

Mrs. Herbert Jaques and Mrs. Saltonstall Meyer proudly watched their daughters, Betsy and Alice Jaques and Nancy Meyer performing in the drill... while at a nearby table, Mrs. David Chaeber had the fun of seeing her daughter, Jane, in the spotlight as she impersonated a sophisticated debutante night club singer...

Swing Number Scores Hit

JULIA BARBOUR, whose throaty blues songs have been a feature of the past two shows, was again at her best in a Sophie Tucker swing number, "I'm Taking the Steppies to Russia," and "Even Stephen" (words and music by Mrs. Stearns Poor) which has a catchy rhythm you'll find yourself humming as you leave the show... Incidentally, Julia stopped the show with the Russian number and was recalled to the spotlight for a couple of choruses...

The make-up department, aided and abetted by a costume belonging to Mrs. Fritz Talbot of Brookline, did a perfect job in transforming Eleanor Roosevelt into a likeness of Queen Victoria for the scene entitled "Queen Victoria Attends a Highland Gathering"... Emily Saltonstall, daughter of Governor and Mrs. Saltonstall, danced in a number of intricate costume changes...

As was to be expected, Polly Blodgett, a nationally known figure skater, was featured in a beautiful winter sports scene and performed a graceful solo dance which gave the impression that she was skating... Her winsome little costume of brown and white satin was trimmed with bands of ermine and her hat and muff were made of spirals of ermine appliqued on brown satin...

Diana Bird's stage experience is so limited that she wasn't quite prepared to make the quick change required when she appeared in one scene right after another... so she caused a lot of chuckles when she came on in the Russian stunner minus the tall green leather boots which completed the costume of the rest of the chorus...

Peggy Parker in Russian Dance

EVERYONE WONDERED how Diana's cousin, Faith Kidder, would feel after playing the part of a conservative Bostonian reading the evening paper at his club... for to make the impersonation complete she had to smoke a real cigar!...

Peggy Parker, who is to follow her Vincent show appearance with a professional dancing engagement at the Latin Quarter, was an outstanding star with her exotic Russian dance, and Cynthia Sortwell made a hit as a dancer in her first Vincent show...

Even the most cold blooded cynic would have been enthusiastic about Camilla White's flirtatious interpretation of Mary Martin's famous song, "My Heart Belongs to Daddy"... Bouquets also to Priscilla Thornhike, the Lang Sisters, Connie Turner and Mrs. Richard Thornhike, Jr., for their performances...

CHAPTER 23

AN AVID knot of citizens trailed the party of distinguished men as it headed for Justice Hockenberry's garage, filling station, funeral parlor and general store.

But the party did not enter the Justice's establishment, instead it debouched into a pair of cars drawn up before his door and before Hockenberry could know what was happening, it had disappeared in a cloud of dust.

"Let's go see Sheriff Thompson," cried a disappointed voice. "He may know what's up."

They started for the sheriff's office. They had not quite reached it when one of their number cried: "He! There's another place to go!"

The man of the voice, a man of middle years, with a graying head and a graying beard, turned and pointed to a small building on the corner of the street.

"That's the place," he said. "It's the place where the party of distinguished men went. It's the place where the party of distinguished men went. It's the place where the party of distinguished men went."

"That's the place," he said. "It's the place where the party of distinguished men went. It's the place where the party of distinguished men went. It's the place where the party of distinguished men went."

"HOLD UP! THERE!" Commands trooper as Gloria dashes down woodland road. "You stop or I'll shoot!" But she's too fast for him.

He stopped for a moment, and then he turned and ran. He was running fast, but he was not running as fast as Gloria. She was running faster than he was.

"Hold up! There!" he called. "You stop or I'll shoot!" But she was too fast for him. She was running faster than he was.

On this week's bill at Elder Parkin where the young Steve Evans will be the star of the show, the picture of your favorite Hollywood star is the winner.

A second important factor in Evans' favor is the picture itself. It is a show-stopper, a picture that has shown character and worth in the past.

On the radio, Evans has been a success, and his picture is a success. He has been a success in the past, and his picture is a success.

RETHBERG AGAIN HAILED IN OPERA

By RUTH MARSTERS

The Boston Evening American's review of the Metropolitan Opera's production of Wagner's "The Mastersingers" is a glowing one.

The production of "The Mastersingers" at the Metropolitan Opera House, which has played the most interesting and beautiful of the operas of Wagner, was a triumph of the opera house.

Austen Lake: B's Varnish Rangers For Second Straight

THE BRUINS' PORTION WAS THREE GOALS in the second playoff contest for the Stanley Cup. The New York Rangers got two goals, a lot of perspiration and the derisive hoots of the Boston Burghers. And though both sides tried to commit little niceties in the manly art of mayhem, no skulls were cracked, no eyes gouged and there was no business for the Baker Memorial. Not even a busted nose. What kind of a sissy game is that?

AUSTEN LAKE

Midway in the first period, Georgie Allen, the meaty Ranger, inserted one of his fatted calves between Jack Crawford's legs as the Bruins defense-man was hellity-hooping down the ice. Jack jack-knifed five feet in the air and landed flush on his prominent proboscis. The impact was terrific and for an instant he lay spraddled out in a semi-swoon while Frank Jones, the vice-trainer, grabbed his satchel of liniment, plaster and string to go out, if needs be, and tie him together again. But Jack gentled himself up and tried a few steps to see if his arms and legs would fall off. He held together all right, though looking a trifle bleary, so Art Ross sent in a ghost for him.

It was just a routine piece of savagery, but Referee Norman Lamont, who had been over the conduct of the athletes, ruled that Austen Lake had committed a fatality piece of business and sent him to the wing. In the meantime the Rangers shy a key man and Ray Connolly, Jim Conner, and Mel Hill came swarming down and passing the puck like pin at a punch picnic.

It was a pretty sample of hockey science and Eddie Shore, old Mr. Cast Iron, tossed the puck to Roy, who spanked it into close to the Ranger Goats that the sweep of his stick nicked Gardiner's chin. So there was your first goal of the evening, and I think you are agreed that Jack Crawford's nausea rates an assist.

Hill the Series Hero

THE SECOND GOAL WAS SISTER to the first—a triple play from Hill to Conacher to Cowley which came 23 seconds after the initial red light and a kind of ho-hum, long distance shot which Cowboy Bill sank a machie pitch from the green. The boys had been bunting each other a little peevishly and a slight case of carnage seemed eminent when Hill snatched the puck at midice.

Conacher, the child protegee of the Bruins, was snuffing a little oxygen near the adeboards when Hill came skimming along. I don't think he had anything particular in mind but, for appearances sake, he took the pass and gave it a poke-for-Daddy, and though there was plenty of muscle in the shove, I'll bet he was as surprised as the 17,000 witnesses when Cowley gave it an extra angular nudge that whizzed under Gardiner's left semple. From the green peak it looked as though your Grandma in her hoop skirts could have saved that one. But the red drug store light blinked and there was your second Bruins' goal.

This roused the Rangers to a fine fury and they grabbed their sticks in the manner illustrated by the old store engravings which show the Nantucket whalers hurling harpoons. There were moments in the second and third periods when the Rangers hustled around Frank Brimsek in a five o'clock subway jam and the game resembled less of a hockey class than the Beta chapter of Teamsters fighting the loyal lodge of longshoremen for the championship of the Pink Pier.

Hiller Putted for an Even

THEY HAD BRIMSEK MAKING frenzied kerks until he seemed to have more legs than a spider until Alex Hibbiky, the cream of the Moosewolves, filtered through and syringed one right down Frank's throat. It was like a veterinary administering a horse drench.

Still it didn't seem important as the game wore on and the finger on the wall-clock was only two minutes short of curfew. The Rangers were still risking galloping disintegration by throwing their lungs, liver

ION SHOULD REFEREE BRUINS-RANGERS TILTS

EDDIE SHORE (21) and Gordon Pettinger (11), both of Bruins, start chase after puck after Frankie Brimsek frustrates goal try of Ranger Len Smith.

By BILL GRIMES

AS I UNDERSTAND the action, the Bruins-Rangers series rate the star billing in the current Stanley Cup playoffs.

And I am informed by those who would know, Moose Hill, a staunch affeer, on the N.H.L. terms roster.

Then why did Press Frank call for substitution Norman Lamont in the second game of the series?

A word to what the referee said the water was able to reach in the eighth period after goal 11 in the first offensive. He felt it would be better to the crowd and the stakes up officers who were in the game. Apparent to the referee, the referee thought which is the most important factor.

TWO-TEAM LEAGUE

The Bruins won the National Hockey League championship and the Prince of Wales Cup by a margin of 10 points over Rangers, which team represented the United States in the World Cup. The Bruins had a record of 40 wins and 10 losses in the league. The Rangers had a record of 30 wins and 20 losses.

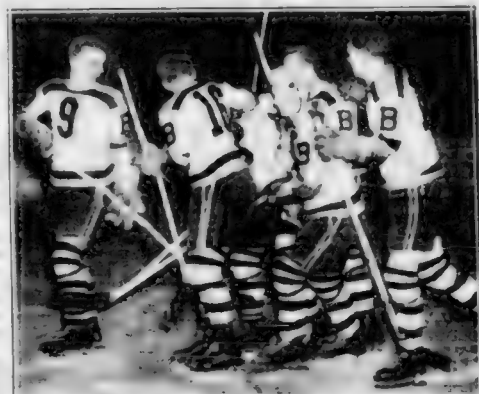

In fact there are any number of experts who have gone on record that Americans believe and Canadians have a right to compete for the Stanley Cup.

Manager Jack Adams declared before the close of the regular season that "there are only two clubs in the league, Bruins and Rangers. The rest of us are bushers, filling in to complete a picture."

TAKED WELL

Press Calder got off to a very promising start from a Boston and New York viewpoint. He named Mickie Ion and Don MacKayden, both of whom are recognized as "top" line forwards. The Bruins are in the Madison Square Garden.

In the tilt between the Toronto Maple Leafs and the New York Americans, the latter played a good, well and "Rabbit" M. V. and to Ion in the Bruins-Rangers series. The child recently dropped his guard and left his side wide open for the Rangers in Montreal. Instead of coming from New York, the Bruins were better prepared for the challenge.

JOYOUS BRUINS crowd around Mel Hill, who scored goal which won second game in Stanley Cup playoff series for Boston, 3-2. Rookie Hill also won first game for Bruins.

Cocoa Kid Choice Over Mike Kaplan

"Here's looking at you," chirps Merry Mike Kaplan who is out to explode the myth tonight that he can't lick the Cocoa kid in the feature bout at the Arena.

Mike Kaplan, Dorchester, encounters his "toughest fight" tonight at the Boston Arena when he collides with Louis Cocoa Kid Hardwick from Hartford in the 10-round feature bout of the Goodwin A. C. boxing show in what should be a spectacular battle.

Regarded by almost one and all as the expert on his best finish prospect in the country, Kaplan goes into the ring on the short end of the belt against the veteran Cocoa Kid, who has been twice world champion in the 212 lb. weight class. Kaplan, who is only 24, is a native of Dorchester and has been in the ring for two years. He is a powerful fighter, with a strong chin and a good left hand. ## Casey Ready for Sonnenberg Go

Steve Casey, who was stripped of his world's heavyweight championship about a month ago, is confident he will regain it when he meets Gus Sonnenberg, Wednesday night, in the main event of the Boston Arena.

"When I look back at it, it is little wonder that I lost the title to The Shadow. I was wrestling four and sometimes five times a week and I was down pretty often. The night The Shadow beat me, I was down on the way I was trying to it took too much out of me. Well, since that time I have been taking it easier and I can notice the difference. I'm not going to wrestle so often after I win back the crown. I think if I take it easier I can hold it the same for several years."

Sieve was asked about his statement "when I win back the crown." "Second, I don't think I didn't it. "No," said Sieve, "I honestly think I can beat Sonnenberg or any other wrestler in the world when I'm in shape. And I'm in shape now, and I'm going to stay in shape. I'll get the title back all right, and as I said before, I'm going to hold it for a long time."

BOSTON

There have been rumors of late that baseball fans are becoming somewhat lethargic and what the game needs is more real fans.

Positive proof that this theory is false has been shown in the letters which have been pouring into the office. Of course there are many readers who ask consideration for both clubs, but on the whole the fans take sides and in no uncertain terms voice their opinions of their favorite club.

As long as fans of this type continue, the pessimists need have little fear as to the future of the national pastime.

Yesterday I ran letters from the Bees rooters, and today I'll swing over to the Red Sox and hear from their fans.

As far as ball players are concerned, match the Rallying Red Sox and the Related Bees man for man, and the ladies will still have to pay "two bits" to see a ball game.

But that's getting away from the insults and squawks that some Bees fan has tossed at the best sports writers east of the Pacific. Clancy claims that the Sox are favored. Well, Clancy, answer this one. When you pick up your favorite Boston paper, which do you enjoy reading most, A or B?

A—"Bees Drop Double-header at Hive to Brooklyn Dodgers."

B—"Sox Shut Yanks Twice as Double XX Gets Nos. 60 and 61."

Think it over, Clancy, and you can apologize to the boys any time before April 15.

JACK DANAHY.

38 Katharine street, Lawrence.

It doesn't seem possible that Mr. Clancy and other Bees followers seriously mean the Bees can win the pennant in 1939, or that they have a team in any way comparable to the Red Sox. In my opinion, even the Red Sox second team could walk away with the pennant in the National League.

The ability of men like Campbell, Carey, Irwin, Berger, Gaffke, Spencer, Nonnenkamp and Colgan has been proven, and what they've shown so far in the training camps will make them a sensation in the National League. It's an insult to the proven ability of stars like Fox, Doerr, Cronin, Tabor, Vosmik, Cramer and Williams to compare them with lesser lights like Hassett, Cuccinello, Miller, Garna, Simmons (on his last legs), Dickshot and Outlaw.

As for pitchers, could anyone suppose that Turner and Fette of the Bees would finish a game if they had to face the American League batters? Granting the Bees win the pennant in the National League, that doesn't make them a better team than the Red Sox, because the National League is not in the same class today as the American League.

As the Bees are today they couldn't win 50 games in a season if they were playing in the American League. Bob Quinn knows it and so do the Boston sports writers. Why should the sports writers lose the confidence of their public by building up a team they know can't stand under pressure?

28 Boylston street, Boston.

MARIO CALIRI.

I read in your column about a Mr. Clancy slamming our Red Sox for getting all the publicity.

I earnestly think Tom Yawkey and his team deserves all the publicity it can get. After all, he took over the Red Sox when they were like the present Boston Bees and spent all kinds of money to give Boston a baseball team it so richly deserved.

As far as Mr. Clancy saying he thinks Joe Cronin and Jimmie Fox are shipping, I'll bet Bob Quinn would gladly give his whole team of misfits for these two players. How can you even compare the American League with the National League after what happened in the last few World Series? The only players the Bees can get are worn out American League players or minor league players whose welcome is worn out in the majors. How did Danny MacFayden fare in the American League? I wonder if Lou Fette or Jim Turner would win 20 games apiece in the American League.

As for comparing our Red Sox man for man with any team in either league, there is only one roster that would give them any trouble and that's the Yankees. After all, with a team like that it's the breaks and a little luck, and I think Joe Cronin's men are going to have just that very soon.

So until some real business man comes along and spends some money getting good players for the Boston Bees, I still like the Sox for my money. See you at the Red Sox and Cincinnati Reds World Series, Mr. Clancy.

'Woody' Rich Looms As Sox Rookie Star

By JOE CASHMAN

SARASOTA, Fla., March 24—Woodrow Rich would rather pitch in the cool of the evening than in the heat of the afternoon, but he's going to be out of luck this season.

He's going to do his pitching in the sunlight, and for the Red Sox.

Manager Joe Cronin hasn't yet officially confirmed this fact. He doesn't need to waste the time and words. Everybody who has seen the 22-year-old rookie from Little Rock in exhibition competition knows it without being told.

"Pitchers like Rich don't pop up from Class A once in a decade," declares President Bob Quinn of the Bees. "He's the most finished rookie hurler I've seen in several years. He has remarkable poise, stuff and control. He can't miss."

"I couldn't believe my eyes as I watched him set down my boys," admitted Manager Bill McKeechie after "Woody" had breezed through five scoreless innings against the Reds. "If he's that good all the time, he'll be a 20-game winner this year. I wish I had him."

Rich has pitched eight innings against major league opposition, three against the Bees and five against the Reds. He's yielded only three hits and not a run, and hasn't issued a single base on balls.

Against the Bees he set nine batters down in order, striking out three and permitting only one ball to be hit out of the infield.

That exhibition caused Cronin to plan an acid test for the freshman "find."

SURVIVES TEST

Starting him against the rollicking Reds before a hostile crowd at Tampa would show whether "Woody" really "had it or not," the skipper decided.

"Woody's" response was to toy with the strongest lineup Mr. McKeechie could muster. His fast ball blinded them; his "hook" handcuffed them; his change of pace made them look silly.

"I still have to pinch myself to make sure I'm not dreaming when I'm catching Rich," chirps Gene Desautels. "He seems too good to be true. His curve snaps like a whip. His fast ball hops a foot. He control his amazing. I never before saw such a young, inexperienced hurler with so much class."

Rich's showing is a distinct surprise to the Sox.

They were aware that he had a fine record at Little Rock last year, but they had been told by Billy Evans, who was tipped off about "Woody" down in North Carolina two years ago, that the boy would need at least another year or seasoning before he'd be ready for the big show.

However, many others, including "Doc" Prothro, who managed "Woody" at Little Rock, had been predicting all winter that the Tarheel tyro would win many a big league game before he again ever won one in the minors.

EVANS WRONG

You can set it down that they were right and Evans was wrong. There's really no telling how good Rich really is right now. He is certainly is good enough to stick, the chances are he'll be one of the regular starters and he might well "rove to be the ace of the staff."

Two years ago, so green he didn't know how to stand on the "rubber," he lost many more games than he won way down in Class D. But he developed so quickly that he was able to turn in 19 victories, including a no-hit, no-run game, for Little Rock last year.

Now he's standing big leaguers on their ears. There isn't a pitcher in a thousand who jumps that way. It takes a genius to climb up the ladder in the fashion Rich has and that's just what "Woody" appears to be right now, a youth who is as likely as not to be a major league sensation right from the start.

SOX AGAIN WHIP B'S

BRADENTON, Fla., March 24—The Red Sox made sure of at least an even break in the annual city series with the Bees by making it two in a row over the Stengel men here by a score of 7 to 6.

The Fenway flock found Tom Early for a run in the first inning and were never headed thereafter, though it was given a scare in the ninth, when the Swarm put over two runs.

Every Sox, except pitchers, contributed at least one blow to a 12-hit attack against Early, Mild Shoffner, Art Doll and "Lefty" Hazel, while the Swarm nicked Denny Galehouse and "Fritz" Ostermuller for 10 safeties.

Johnny Cooney, veteran Bees' fly chaser, was the day's hitting hero. Replacing Jimmy Outlaw in center field in the fifth frame, Cransford John went to bat three times and connected for two singles and a double.

Both teams were sloppy afield, with the Sox being charged with three miscues and the Bees with two. The Cronin clan scored against all the Bees' boxmen except Hazel, who worked only the ninth. The Stengel sitters did all their damage against Ostermuller in the last four frames.

WORKMAN WINS GRAND NATIONAL STEEPCHASE

MacMoffat 2d, Kilstar 3d At Aintree

AINTREE, March 24 (AP)—Workman, one of the Irish-bred favorites owned by Sir Alexander Maguire, today won the 101st Grand National Steeplechase before a crowd of more than 250,000.

Captain L. Scott Griggs, MacMoffat was second, and the highly regarded Kilstar, from Dorothy Paget's stable third.

Cooleen, carrying the silks of J. V. Rank and fourth last year, again finished in the same position with A. Donni's Dominick's Cross fifth in the field of 37 which started the four and a half mile trip.

WAR VESSEL FALLS

Workman, which went to the post at the odds of 100 to 1, finished three lengths in front of MacMoffat after running with the leaders from the start. MacMoffat, a 25-to-1 outsider, was another 15 lengths in front of Kilstar, 5 to 1 choice.

Workman, third to the American-owned Battleship and Royal Danieli last year, completed the journey in nine minutes and 42 seconds under the guidance of Jockey T. Hyde.

The time was only 20 seconds slower than the record. Royal Danieli fell midway in the race after jumping with the early leaders.

Mrs. Marion Scott's War Vessel, stablemate of last year's winner and, like Battleship, sired by Man o' War, was well up for the first few jumps but fell before completing half of the long trip.

By Gene Ahern

BILL'S SPORT-O-GRIEVE

Before he was out of the Garden last night, Mel Hill had "writer's cramp" autographing books, papers and even shirt cuffs . . . He's fully entitled to all the plaudits he's receiving, for, in scoring the winning goals in overtime in consecutive Stanley Cup games, he has established an all-time record . . . Incidentally, both of Mel's goals were legitimate tallies, beautifully set up by Bill Cowley.

C. F. Adams is on his way to Bradenton, Fla., so he missed one of the best playoff games ever staged at the Garden . . . Davie Kerr has a separation in his shoulder and there is little chance that he will be able to return to the Ranger nets . . . Bert Gardiner showed a new style of goal minding . . . While the Rangers were applying the old pressure, Gardiner stood between the red and blue lines . . . Why? . . . It's beyond me . . . Would have liked to have seen Dit Clapper lift one of his high flip shots from the Bruin zone . . . Gardiner would have been in a tough spot, unless he can go back like Tris Speaker.

C. F. ADAMS

The Cowley line hasn't done badly in the series . . . It was a wise move on the part of Art Ross when he assigned Bill Cowley as play maker for Roy Conacher and Mel Hill . . . And, a wiser one when he instructed Cowley to feed Hill, immediately he saw the Rangers were concentrating on covering Conacher . . . Norman Lamport pulled one when he sent Roy Conacher and Neal Colville off for a mild high-sticking tilt, while Mac Colville was giving Bill Cowley the "business" a few feet away . . . There must be two different brands of hockey.

Tuesday's game in New York was as different from last night's battle as chalk is from cheese . . . Roy Conacher almost rifled that penalty shot right between Bert Gardiner's pads . . . At the rate he's going Bill Cowley will be known as a young man with the thousand elbows by the end of the series . . . Shortly after Alex Shibicky scored, Lynn Patrick set up a beautiful play for Clint Smith and the little Ranger made a fine bid to score, but Frankie Brimsek came up with a great save.

Few players have a better temperament than Dutch Hiller . . . While Bobby Bauer was holding Dutch on the boards over by the Bruins' gate, Red Casey stroked Dutch's head getting a laugh out of the Rangers . . . And, when Herbie Schmidt dropped him heavily in the third chapter, Dutch came up smiling . . . Ott Heller staged a nice rush in the third period, weaving through the entire Bruin team to test Brimsek with a shot that was labeled for a goal.

While Alex Shibicky was working on Roy Conacher over by the boards in the third period, "Dit" Clapper raced across the ice and hit the Ranger a terrific check, which put the Patri- can out of action for a few minutes . . . Maybe Ditt was teaching Shibicky not to beat him to any more loose pucks.

Now that the Maple Leafs have eliminated Americans, Connie Smythe can be expected here for Sunday night's game . . . Sir Connie is positive that his Maple Leafs will reach the finals, and, in his opinion, so will the Bruins . . . Wouldn't be surprised if he has something there.

Bryan Hextall, who injured his shoulder in New York, retired during the overtime period, after a jam with Woody Dumart . . . On two occasions, Rangers got away with batting the puck toward the Bruins' zone . . . "Hap" Day was right on the job every minute and didn't miss a play . . . Cecil Dillon missed his first N. H. L. game in nine years . . . Lester Patrick became fed up on that synthetic consecutive game record along about the middle of the season . . . But, he didn't demand a show-down until after Tuesday's game in New York . . . The Rangers have been playing the man, not the puck, in this series.

and heart into their work. And suddenly Dutch Hiller stuffed one in with a putting delicacy usually associated with golf greens.

Phil Watson had turned Shore's end for a nice gain and banged a shot straight at the Bruin goalie's stomach, which is one of those round rubbery stomachs covered with an inflated catcher's protector. So the puck bounced back and stopped a few yards in front of the net, lying there innocently and unscathed while all hands made frenzied swipes with their hooks and snatched each other by their belt loops.

It was a spot for a cool head, so Hiller meandered up and gave the puck a negligent shove which oozed it over the line to the consternation of young Frank, who was lying partially on his tummy trying to keep his softer portions clear of flying skates. And that tied the game and made everybody thwarted, exasperated and sore'nell.

Bruins Had More 'Umph' Left

SO THE GAME WENT INTO AN EXTRA period with the noise fit to bust the eardrums and the boys forgetting the pre-game appeal of both managers to remember their sportsmanship and not get caught brainning each other in plain sight of the referee. The Rangers had lost some of their gimp when they came out and though Lester Patrick exhorted them with waves of his gray fedora they couldn't give what they didn't have. It was all or nothing and for a spell they tried to brutalize the plug into the cage by ganging five men up the ice. But finally that triple case of measles, the Hill-Cowley combination scooted up the ice on what the football folk call a "shoe-string" play. Conacher led with a neat feint that deceived Art Coulter and Cowley countered with a nice flip to Hill and the red light blinked for the last time. In closing I might add that the sound of cowbells, fire sirens and plain voices howls was enough to wake the pigeons on the Boston Common.
